Emperor William's New Boat, the Meteor, Launched Amid Great Enthusiasm.

CHRISTENED BY ALICE ROOSEVELT

Hearty Cheers for the President, His Daughter and Prince Henry

Luncheon Served on the Hohenzollern—The Prince Visited the City Hall and Was Given the Freedom of the City.

New York, Feb. 24.—Prince Henry of Prussia, representative of his brother, the emperor of Germany, at the launching of the latter's American built yacht, was cordially welcomed as a guest of the nation. The land bat-tries that guard the outer harbor sounded the first greeting in a ponderous salute of 21 guns. The rifles of a special naval squadron assembled in his honor reached the sentiment, there were volleys of salutes from the representatives of President Roosevelt, the army, the navy and the city of New York, and a great crowd lined the way into the city to see and cheer the sailor prince of Germany.

Adm. Robley Evans, commander of the special squadron and honorary aide to the prince, left the flagship Illinois in the naval tug Nina, with him were Capt. G. A. Converse, his chief of staff, Flag Lieutenant Frederick Chapin, Ensign Frank T. Evans, aide, and Capt. Robert Buchanan, naval attaché at the Washington embassy of the German government. They were all in full dress uniform. The Nina met the Kron Prinz beyond Fort Wadsworth.

Adm. Evans was escorted forward at once and in the quarters of Capt. A. Richter, master of the Kron Prinz, he and the prince met. The prince came forward and, taking the hand of the naval officer, shook it warmly.

"I am very glad to see you, sir," said the admiral.

"Everybody in the United States is waiting to welcome you. It is my pleasure, sir, to formally greet you in their behalf."

"I thank you, sir, and through you the people of your country," responded the prince. "I am very glad to be here and on this splendid day. The emperor directed me to convey his compliments to you, admiral, and I do so with very great pleasure."

Adm. Evans expressed gratification at the thoughtfulness of the emperor. He presented the members of his staff and the prince gave each a hearty handshake and a cordial word.

New York, Feb. 24.—The prince and his party reached Jersey City at 12:10 a. m. and walked to the train through a roped enclosure guarded by 80 policemen under Chief of Police Murphy, of Jersey City. The train consisted of eight cars, the last one being the Columbia, devoted to the use of the prince and two immediate attendants. As Assistant General Passenger Agent G. W. Boyd was in charge of the train. In addition to the police guard on the platform there were present Capt. T. J. C. N. Wilkie, of the secret service. The train left the station at 1 a. m., the prince appearing on the rear platform of his car and bowing his acknowledgments of the cheers of those in the station.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Prince Henry arrived in Washington at 10:20 Monday morning. He was met by Secretaries Hay and Long and Count Canizares and two other attaches of the German embassy. Ten minutes later he left for the white house.

The official greetings to the prince, while formal, were characterized by simplicity. Secretary Hay, as the head of the cabinet, was the first to extend greetings. He said to the prince:

"The president requests me, sir, to give you in his name, a cordial welcome to Washington."

As the prince's carriage swung into the east gate of the white house, the Marine band struck up "My Country."

The carriage stopped under the great porte cochere and the party alighted. Capt. Maj. McCawley and Capt. Gilmore conducted the prince back into the east room, then to the left into the east room, then to the left into the east room, then to the left into the east room.

until after he had concluded his interview with President Roosevelt. He had scarcely crossed the threshold before the president, who was waiting for him, stepped forward and grasped him by the hand. The greetings that passed were of the most cordial nature. After the president and prince had talked together for a few moments the president conducted the royal visitor into the red room, where Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Alice were waiting. The prince expressed himself as delighted at the honor of meeting the ladies, and was particularly complimentary to Miss Alice.

The prince arrived at the white house at 10:40, and left the mansion at 11:15 for the German embassy. Promptly at 11:20 o'clock the prince, accompanied by Adm. Evans, drove up to the door of the embassy. He was received by Ambassador Von Holleben, who made a low obeisance and kissed his hand. Meanwhile the band on the street played "America."

At 11:45 the president's arrival was heralded by loud cheering and vigorous waving of handkerchiefs. In the same carriage rode Col. Bingham. He was met by Ambassador Von Holleben and at once ushered into the presence of the prince. He remained exactly ten minutes.

Washington, Feb. 25.—One of the most brilliant functions of Monday was at 2 p. m. when Prince Henry received at the German embassy the members of the diplomatic corps, including the ambassadors and plenipotentiaries, accompanied by their staffs of government, naval and civil attaches, all in full uniform.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The visit of Prince Henry and his suite to the capitol Monday afternoon must have been not only a gratifying experience to the royal visitor on account of the warm and flattering reception he received at both the house and senate and of the opportunity it afforded of seeing personally the leaders of both houses, but it must have been an extremely interesting experience as well.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The dinner given to Prince Henry by President Roosevelt at the white house Monday night closed the honors bestowed on the royal visitor by official Washington Monday. The affair was an elaborate scale and brought together a most distinguished company. It was an assembly such as has rarely if ever before gathered in the white house.

During the dinner the president proposed the health of the German emperor, saying:

"We admire their great past and great present and we wish them all possible success in the future. May the bonds of friendship between the two people ever grow stronger."

The president also proposed the health of our guest, Prince Henry of Prussia. In these words the president said to the people of the United States and to extend you our warmest welcome and the assurance of our heartiest good will."

Following the toast of the president to the German emperor, Prince Henry arose and addressed himself to the president and the people of the United States, accompanying it with an expression of good will and hope for the continuation of friendly relations between the German and American nations. Then followed Mr. Roosevelt's toast to Prince Henry.

At 10:10 the party dispersed, the prince leaving directly for the railroad station, where his special train awaited him. A troop of cavalry and a squadron of mounted and bicycle policemen acted as escort to the station, which left at midnight for New York.

New York, Feb. 26.—The all-important event in the itinerary of Prince Henry of Prussia Tuesday was the launching of the schooner yacht Meteor, built at Shooters Island for the prince's brother, the German emperor.

The special train bearing President Roosevelt from Washington to the launching reached Jersey City at 6:10 a. m. The president remained on board until the arrival of the prince's train.

A few moments after 7 o'clock the president headed on the engine of Prince Henry's special train and the train was more than an hour late in reaching the city.

Soon after 8 the president and the prince and his suites embarked on a boat for Shooters Island. The party proceeded directly from the ferry boat to the island, which had been erected at the north end of the water on which the Meteor rested, the guns meanwhile booming salutes and the crowd cheering enthusiastically. The president and prince, with Mrs. and Miss Roosevelt, arrived on the platform at 10:22. The prince conducted Miss Roosevelt to the low of the boat.

At 10:29 Miss Roosevelt raised the bottle of champagne, which had been encased in beautiful silver filigree and which was suspended by a 35 foot silver chain. Dashing the bottle against the side of the vessel with vigorous and effective hand, the wine breaking into spray, Miss Roosevelt said in English: "In the name of the German emperor I christen thee Meteor."

Her voice was loud and clear and could be distinctly heard on all the surrounding platforms. Then she raised a silver ax and severed the rope holding the vessel which kept the ship in the ways and the vessel went gracefully into the water. Simultaneously cannon boomed and the noise of the gun was lost in that resulting from the roar of human voices aided by the royal band and several bands on board the various vessels surrounding the island. Every hat was raised and then there were cheer after cheer for the president, prince and Miss Roosevelt.

After the launching the president presented several persons to the prince. While this scene was going on the crowd remained, continually cheering and occasionally calling "Cheers for the prince." "Cheers for the president" or "Cheers for Miss Roosevelt."

Soon after the launching the presidential party and the prince proceeded to the hall where a luncheon had been prepared. The health of the prince was drunk and then Prince Henry said:

"On this occasion I wish to call for three hearty cheers for the president of the United States, Mr. Roosevelt—hip, hip, hurrah!" as the prince spoke he waved his arms in a signal and the cheering broke out with a rush.

Then President Roosevelt raised his right hand, and when there was silence said:

"I say three cheers for the guest, who has already won our hearts, Henry of Prussia. Now a good one!"

President Roosevelt's hip, hip, hoorah, was drowned in the roar of applause that greeted the call for cheers. Then the prince and president shook hands warmly and as the party started to leave the hall some one among the invited guests shouted, "Mr. President, I offer three cheers for the young lady who has had the honor of launching the Meteor." The cheers were given.

From Shooters Island the president and the prince went to the Hohenzollern, where luncheon was served. "Prior to the luncheon a golden bracelet in which is set a small picture of Kaiser Wilhelm, was presented by Prince Henry to Miss Alice Roosevelt. The bracelet is studded with diamonds and other precious stones. It was the gift of the emperor, Henry, acting in behalf of his brother, the emperor, made a very brief address in presenting the bracelet to Miss Roosevelt, and she in turn accepted the gift with a few words in which she expressed her thanks and appreciation of the gift.

During the luncheon cablegrams were received from the kaiser by Prince Henry. President Roosevelt and Miss Alice Roosevelt. Miss Roosevelt desired to reply at once, so the president asked for a pad and pencil. He began to write the message and had written a few words when Mrs. Roosevelt smilingly took the pencil from him and added a few words. She then passed the pad and pencil to Miss Alice, who completed the message. Thus the cablegram to the emperor was the joint production of the president, his wife and his daughter.

The luncheon was finished about 3 o'clock. At 3:10 p. m. President and Mrs. Roosevelt entered a carriage and were driven to the Twenty-third street ferry. They went to their special train, leaving Jersey City at 3:55 p. m. for Washington.

The president's departure from the Hohenzollern was preceded by a pretty ceremony. The president's flag, flying from the mast, was hoisted down and saluted while the band played the "Star Spangled Banner."

Soon after the president had left the ship Miss Alice Roosevelt walked down the gangway on the arm of Levi P. Morton. The former governor, with Miss Roosevelt and Mrs. Morton, then went to the Morton home.

Prince Henry, with several of his officers, boarded the navy yard tug Vigilant at 3:30 p. m. and went to the battery. From the battery the prince went to visit the mayor at city hall, where he was the board of aldermen presented him with the freedom of the city.

FIFTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Senate.—The senate continued the consideration of the Philippine tariff bill Wednesday, the main speeches being made by Mr. Furrows (Mich.), for the bill, and Mr. Money (Miss.), against it. Although Mr. Mitchell (Ore.), Mr. Foraker (O.), Mr. Mallory (Fla.) and Mr. Tillman (S. C.) all took more or less part in the general discussion, the main topics were discussed by Mr. Mitchell (Ore.).

House.—Again the general debate on the Indian appropriation bill was evoked almost entirely to extemporaneous topics, with Mr. Mitchell (Mich.) enlivened the proceedings with an interesting speech on trusts.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Senate.—With the exception of a few minutes given to routine business, the senate Thursday devoted its entire session to the Philippine question. Mr. Patterson (Cal.), one of the minority members of the Philippine committee, delivered his first extended speech in the senate and was given a most attentive and careful hearing. A bill authorizing the construction of a bridge over the Missouri river at Kansas City was passed, and the senate then at 5:15 p. m., went into executive session and soon adjourned.

House.—The house spent the day working on the Indian appropriation bill. Forty-two of the 62 pages were disposed of. Several amendments were adopted but none of much importance. Representative Southwick (N. Y.) introduced a bill to prevent the brewing of inferior beer. It requires that beer and malt shall be the only products entering into the brewing of beer and ale, and that no other products than barley, wheat and rice shall enter into the manufacture of malt.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Senate.—For more than six hours Friday the senate had the Philippine tariff bill under discussion. Mr. Mitchell (Mich.) delivered a carefully prepared speech in opposition to the pending measure.

House.—The house passed the Indian appropriation bill. No amendments were adopted. The bill was passed by a vote of 191 to 157.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Senate.—At eight o'clock of tumultuous debate Monday the senate, shortly before 10 o'clock Monday evening, passed the Philippine tariff bill by a vote of 46 to 29—a strictly party vote.

Mr. Tillman and Mr. McPherson, the two senators from South Carolina who on Saturday last were declared by the senate to be in violation of the rules, were not permitted to speak in the chamber, were not permitted to vote by voice or by ballot.

As the measure provides that articles imported into the Philippine archipelago from the United States shall be required to pay the duties levied against them by the Philippine commission, and paid upon like articles imported into the archipelago from foreign countries; that articles imported into the United States from the Philippines shall pay a duty of 75 per cent. of the rates fixed by the Dingley law, less any export taxes paid upon the articles sent from the Philippine archipelago as required by the Philippine commission.

All articles now imported free into the United States shall be hereafter exempt from export duty imposed in the Philippines. The bill exempts the commerce passing between the United States and the Philippines from the operation of the navigation laws of the United States until January 1, 1903, and authorizes the Philippine commission to issue licenses to craft now engaged in lighterage or exclusively harbor business, provided such craft are built in the United States or in the Philippines and owned by citizens of the United States or by inhabitants of the Philippine islands. The duties and taxes collected on private lands of Cuba since the date of the annexation of the Philippine islands and used for their benefit. All articles manufactured in bonded warehouses of imported materials or of materials subject to internal revenue tax when shipped from the United States to the Philippines, shall be exempt from the internal revenue and all taxes paid upon such articles shipped to the Philippines since November 15, 1898, shall be refunded.

House.—The house passed a bill to divide Texas into judicial districts and also the Tawney resolution calling on the secretary of war for information concerning the transfer of several lands of Cuba since the date of the annexation of the Philippine islands and used for their benefit. The bill carries an appropriation of $1,931,678, an increase of $2,560 over last year.

Washington, Feb. 26.—Senate.—But little business was done in the senate and the senate adjourned early on the announcement of the death of Representative Crump.

House.—The house passed the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill. It was the fifth of the regular annual supply measures to be sent to the senate at this session. No amendments of importance were adopted.

The feature of the day was the speech of Mr. Richardson (Ala.) in reply to Mr. Corliss' speech a few days ago in favor of the consolidation of consular service by the government. The question of reforming the consular service was debated at some length, but no amendments on that subject were offered.

Twenty bills were introduced Friday.

Frankfort, Feb. 25.—The democratic leaders of the state senate have refused to go into joint caucus with the house members for the consideration of the committee report on legislative, congressional and judicial redistricting. SHOT AT WHITEHOUSE

Richard Rote, Swede Tramp, Shot By Elmer Hicks.

NOT THE MAN WANTED AT BIRMINGHAM.

Last Monday Jack Osborn and Elmer Hicks, both citizens of this county, went up to Whitehouse on the track of a Swede tramp who they claim was Frank Duncan, a desperado who was engaged in a big robbery in Alabama and afterwards killed policemen Kirby and Adams at Birmingham, and was sentenced to death and escaped, and for whom a reward of $500 was offered. They came up with the tramp near Ward City and Hicks says that when they ordered him to throw up his hands he reached for his pocket as though to draw a weapon. Hicks fired on him with a shot gun, tearing away the greater part of his left cheek and making a bad wound in his neck. When searched nothing but an ordinary table fork was found on his person.

The captors then brought the man to Graves' Shoals where Hicks is employed, and on Tuesday morning they brought him to Louisville. He was immediately taken to the police office, where Dr. Riggs examined the wound and pronounced it a dangerous one and told the men they had better take him to a hospital. The man was spoken to in German by William Self and said that he was not the man wanted. He said he had committed no crime, that his name was Richard Rote and that he came from Parkersburg, W. Va., hunting work. He claims that he was shot while walking along, not knowing that he was wanted.

In the meantime the Birmingham officials had been wired to know if Duncan was a foreigner and an answer came that he was a Swede and to hold their man.

The wounded man was taken to the depot in the afternoon, his captors saying they were going to take him to a hospital, but Deputy Sheriff Jesse Cyrus arrived on the scene with a warrant and placed Hicks under arrest. Osborn gave bond and Hicks was held under guard until Wednesday morning, when both men were taken to Johnson county, where, a report Wednesday night says, they were held without bail.

The wounded man was taken to the Arlington Hotel, where he is being taken care of. Dr. Wrote dressed his wounds and he is some better, though in a precarious condition.

Deputy Sheriff Cole arrived Wednesday evening from Birmingham and after examining Rote said he was not the man wanted.

Osborn is a farmer and has always been considered a good quiet citizen. Hicks is a sawyer for Art Preston, at Graves' Shoals, and is considered a peaceable young man, though he has been in trouble before.

P. H. Napier has received a letter from Wm. Meade, a thoroughly reliable citizen of Fug river, stating that several cases of smallpox have developed in that section. This disease was scattered by the two Curreys who were exposed while here in jail. Death of Mrs. Jemimah Borders.

I am just in receipt of a letter advising me of the death of Mrs. Jemimah E. Borders, widow of the late Ezekiah Borders, at Baldwin, Kansas, February 13th. She was a daughter of Daniel Axtell, was born January 8th, 1816, was married to Ezekiah Borders August 11th, 1847, and moved to Kansas with her children in 1871. She was one of the best known women in the Big Sandy valley; a devout Christian, zealous in all good works, and a Methodist of the old, sterling type. Intelligently she was far above the average, socially a most delightful companion, and entertained with a lavish hand.

ZEPHANIAH MEER.

Dropped Dead.

Friday, as John L. Hibbard was walking along a pathway at Peach Orchard, this county, he was considerably shocked by finding the body of Malcom Hinkle, son of Wesley Hinkle, lying cold in death. The citizens of the locality were notified and the proper investigation was made. This seemed to prove that the man had died from heart trouble.

He was a miner, unmarried, age 42, and had left his mother's home at the usual time to go to work. He had his dinner pail with him. His death occurred some time before the body was found. He was a man of industry and good habits, and was caring for his widowed mother. This makes it a particularly sad case.

EXCELLENT SERVICE.

New Arrangement of Big Sandy Trains is First Class.

On Tuesday of last week a new train schedule was put into effect for the Big Sandy Division, and it is by far the best service ever given up here. It is all that could be desired, and everybody is highly elated.

The new arrangement gives us two passenger trains each way per day, the entire length of the road. No change is made in the time of the recent schedule, but the run between Ashland and Louisville has been extended to Whitehouse. The train leaves the latter place at 5 a. m., and arrives there at 7:35 p. m. On the midday trip the time at that point is the same as heretofore.

We bear nothing but praise for the service, which seems to meet all the requirements of the public.

Conductor C. W. Meyers and engineers T. C. Songer and Andy Berry are running these trains.

Winter coughs are apt to result in consumption if neglected. They can be soon broken up by using Foley's Honey and Tar. Sold by A. M. Hughes.

Shannon-McClure.

Miss Quinn Shannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shannon left home last Saturday morning presumably to visit relatives in Ashland. Nothing more was heard from her until Thursday when a letter arrived stating that she was married on Saturday evening to Mr. Ricc McClure and that they had gone to housekeeping at Center, Ohio, where Mr. McClure is employed and where he had a house furnished ready for his bride. The bride and groom met at Ashland and went immediately to Fronto, where they were married. They are both very popular young people. The bride was a pretty miss of eighteen summers, and was quite popular with her host of friends. The groom is the son of Harry McClure, of Gallup, this county, and is well known and liked in Louisville.

ASKS DAMAGES.

Lawrence County Wants Reimbursements from Uncle Sam for Damages to Court House.

Below we publish an Order made by our worthy County Judge, R. F. Vinson, a few days ago in open court, as the first step toward obtaining from the government a reasonable reimbursement for damages done to the court house at this place by U. S. soldiers.

In justice to the tax payers of this county, and in view of the fact that the judge of this court has personal knowledge that during the civil war of the rebellion 1861-5 there was kept at Louisville, Kentucky, a military post with from five hundred to three thousand soldiers, and in the time we had as commanders Gen. James A. Garfield, Gen. Wm. Nelson, Gen. White, Gen. Geo. W. Gallup and acting commander Col. Crover, of the 40th Ohio, Col. John Dils and Col. D. A. Mims, of the 39th Kentucky, and Maj. J. J. Burchett, of the 14th Kentucky. That while the army was stationed here they took possession of the court house and jail of this county, and used jail as a guard house and the court house as commissary and for storing forage, and while hauling to and from the same run wagons against the outside corners, broke and knocked out bricks from wall, greased and soiled the inside walls, broke down the floors and stairways, cut and mutilated columns, destroyed and carried away the seats, broke the frames out of two outside doors and knocked out bricks from sides and overhead, destroyed the well or public square by getting a horse in it and filling it up, and in order to hold regular terms of court the officers were compelled to procure a house in which to hold said court, and that they did procure the use of a church building.

After the military authorities had abandoned the court house and the civil authorities again got in possession they made an effort to put the building in condition for court, condemned the building and forced the county to build one.

In view of the above facts Hon. D. J. Burchett and Geo. F. Johnson are hereby appointed commissioners to procure evidence to enable Lawrence county, Kentucky, to present a claim to the Congress of the United States of America for damage.

Mrs. Mary Roberts Holt.

Mrs. Mary L. Roberts Holt, wife of Rev. D. P. Holt pastor of the M. E. Church at Ludlow, died at the home of her father, Reed Roberts, near here, after an illness of several months, of consumption. Mrs. Holt had been at her father's home for some time in the hope that the country air might prove beneficial, but to no avail. The deadly fangs of consumption had fastened upon her and though every effort was made by her husband and other relatives the final summons could be stayed no longer and she passed peacefully away Monday.

Mrs. Holt was one of Lawrence county's best and most popular women and enjoyed the love and respect of a host of friends, both here and in the different cities in which her husband had been stationed.

For a number of years she had been a faithful member of the M. E. Church, and was a bright and influential Christian.

Besides her husband she is survived by her father, one sister and a brother.

The funeral which was held from the M. E. Church at this place at eleven o'clock Wednesday, was conducted by Rev. A. Boring, of Bellevue, assisted by the pastor, Rev. G. W. Howes, Rev. Sutton of Ashland, and Rev. Boland, D. D.

Her remains were laid to rest in the Fulkerson Cemetery beside her mother.

Pneumonia developed and death resulted.

This will be shocking news to his many friends and relatives in Lawrence county, where he was reared and successfully practiced his profession for several years. He was popular and possessed more than ordinary ability.

A wife and two children survive him. Many of his relatives live on Blaine, this county.

Her death was caused by a complication of diseases incident to old age. She was a faithful member of the church, and a woman who was well spoken of by all who knew her.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. G. W. Howes at one o'clock at the M. E. Church yesterday, and the burial took place in the Fulkerson Cemetery.
